For the prevention and cure of
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Fan-Sash Making

METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expence in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.
Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as it in town.

PROSPECTUS.

ASIA.

The Asiatic part of this work contains a general view of the antediluvians—of the general deluge—of the re-settlement of the Globe after that great event—of the primitive postdiluvian nations which were formed in Asia, the cradle of the world. Their various ramifications, revolutions, and of the general course of Empire.

AFRICA.

The African part, contains a concise history of Egypt, arthage, Numidia, Mauritania, Abyssinia, of the Piratical States, and the Hottentots, with a grouped view of its uncivilized settlements.

EUROPE.

The European part, contains the history of Greece and Rome, from their origin to their dissolution—of the various nations which were conquered by them—and of the nations by which the Romans themselves were finally conquered, and of the nations which were formed from the fragments of the Roman Empire, and the various revolutions of the latter, together with a view of the nations which never were subjected to the Romans.

AMERICA.

The American part, contains a general history of the Western continent, under the heads of Free, European, and Aboriginal or unconquered America. The first contains a history of the United States, from their first settlement as English Colonies, till the present time.—The second, of all parts dependant on Europe.—And the third, of all that are still owned by the Aborigines.

It is expected that the whole will be comprised in 10 or 12 octavo volumes of between four and five hundred pages each—to be printed in Philadelphia, on good paper and fair types, for $3 1-3 per volume, in sheep binding, or $4 1-3 Calf Gilt, to be paid for on delivery.

AUTHORITIES.

This work has been in contemplation upwards of 40 years. The project of it was conceived in 1786, on reading the Universal History, then recently edited in 60 volumes, by a society of gentlemen in England. The original idea of extracting the quintessence of that voluminous work, which contained the most complete system of history the world had then seen, has ever since been enlarging and improving by an attentive perusal of the histories written by Robertson, Hume, Gibbon, and other modern authors—of the Asiatic researches—of the works of Sir William Jones, and other learned Orientalists—the publications of intelligent travellers, who, in the course of the last half century have explored almost every region of the Globe. These collectively have thrown a blaze of light on countries comparatively unknown, and on portions, both of ancient and modern history which were confused and obscure at the period when the writers of the Universal History published their work. The arrangement of materials collected from these sources commenced in the year 1780, when, in consequence of the surrender of Charleston to Sir Henry Clinton, the author was suddenly released from a sea of business and sent as a prisoner of war to the British Garrison then in St. Augustine, and there confined for eleven months, without any peculiar employment. Steady progress has been made to the last ten years in correcting and transcribing the work for publication.

UNITED STATES.

The History of the United States is given at full length—that of foreign countries is more or less expended or contracted in proportion to the intrinsic importance of each—its tendency to illustrate portions of Holy Writ—the Greek and Latin Classics—and also in proportion to its connexion with the U. States, or as furnishing useful practical information to its citizens, or as the paternal soil of their ancestors.

The above sketch of the nature and objects of this immense work, which has occupied the attention of the Author for upwards of 40 years, was found among his papers, and is now given to the public in his own words. Since that period, a few chapters have been added by the Reverend SAMUEL STANHOPE SMITH, which brings it down to the close of the last war.

The publication commences with a third impression of the History of the U. States, in three volumes, which is all that has ever appeared. The whole will not be delivered under 18 or 20 months. It is proper to state, that the gentlemen who have the direction of it are neither booksellers nor printers, and receive no pecuniary consideration for their trouble—but are willing to make the necessary advances to carry it into execution provided the sale is warranted by public patronage. The profits arising are to be appropriated for the support and education of his children, four of each sex: to them its success is a matter of deep importance.

[Ballad writing has become a fashionable employment among modern poets.—Some of their productions of this kind have appeared, marked with the wildest extravagance and absurdity, others with the most flat prosaic simplicity. The following, which is nearly a hundred years old, by TICKELL, the friend of Addison, may be considered as one of the purest models of that species of composition, that has ever appeared in our language:]

Of Leinster, fam'd for maidens fair,
Bright Lucy was the grace;
Nor ere did Liffy's limpid stream
Reflect so fair a face.

Till luckless love, and pining care,
Impair'd her rosy hue,
Her coral lip, and damask cheek,
And eyes of glossy blue.

Oh! have you seen a lily pale,
When beating rains descend?
So droop'd the slow consuming maid,
Her life now near its end.

By Lucy warn'd, of flattering swains
Take heed, ye easy fair;
Of vengeance due to broken vows,
Ye perjur'd swains beware.

Three times, all in the dead of night,
A bell was heard to ring;
And at her window, shrieking thrice,
The raven flapp'd his wing.

Too well the love-lorn maiden knew
The solemn boding sound;
And thus in dying words, bespoke
The virgins weeping round:

"I hear a voice, you cannot hear,
Which says I must not stay;
I see a hand, you cannot see,
Which beckons me away.

By a false heart and broken vows,
In early youth I die;
Was I to blame, because his bride
Was thrice as rich as I?

Ah, Colin! give not her thy vows—
Vows due to me alone;
Nor thou, fond maid, receive his kiss,
Nor think him all thy own.

To-morrow in the church to wed,
Impatient both prepare;
But know, fond maid, and know, false man,
That Lucy will be there.

Then bear my corse, ye comrades, bear,
The bridegroom blithe to meet;
He, in his wedding-trim so gay,
I in my winding sheet."

She spoke, she died—her corse was borne
The bridegroom blithe to meet;
He in his wedding-trim so gay,
She in her winding sheet.

Then what were perjur'd Colin's tho'ts?
How were those nuptials kept?
The bride-men flock'd round Lucy dead,
And all the village wept.

Confusion, shame, remorse, despair,
At once his bosom swell;
The damps of death bedew'd his brow,
He shook, he groan'd, he fell.

From the vain bride, (ah bride no more!)
The varying crimson fled,
When stretch'd before her rival's corse,
She saw her husband dead.

Then to his Lucy's new made grave,
Convey'd by trembling swains,
One mould with her, beneath one sod,
Forever now remains.

Oft at their grave the constant hind
And plighted maid are seen;
With garlands gay, and true love knots,
They deck the sacred green.

But, swain forsworn, whoe'er thou art,
This hallow'd spot forbear;
Remember Colin's dreadful fate,
And fear to meet him there.

ALEXANDRIA:
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1, 1818.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Tuesday, March 31.

The result of the inquiry into the conduct of the clerks and officers of the several departments was yesterday laid by Mr. Holmes, the chairman of the committee, before the House of Representatives, in a report ending with four resolutions. The first "prohibiting clerks from acting as agents for claimants against the United States;" the second "prohibiting them from engaging in trade;" the third "recommending that the acts relating to the treasury department should be amended, and some of the penalties increased;" and the fourth "recommending the appointment of a committee to report bills on those resolutions."

Mr. Lowndes felt it to be but justice to put it to the consideration of the house whether a course which, as the present did, threw censure on the heads of departments for winking at such irregularities as those detailed in the report, ought to be let pass without being qualified by the information which he rose to impart, that those departments were actually, at the time that congress took the matter up, employed in examining into the subject and devising remedies for the irregularities complained of. In saying this he desired to be understood as not at all calling in question the propriety of the proceedings of the committee. The resolutions were therefore agreed to, and bills were ordered to be brought for carrying them into effect.

The report of the committee of the whole on the appropriation bill being under consideration, Mr. Forsyth moved to change the appropriation of 30,000 dollars for the mission to South America to a charge to the contingent fund. As the gentlemen included in that mission were unofficial agents, a specific appropriation for them would be improper, as being only applicable to official appointments authorised by the concurrence of the Senate. The motion passed without opposition.

Mr. Clay's proposition about a minister to South America, was renewed by Mr. Anderson of Kentucky, and negatived. What is singular, is, that it received its sentence from precisely the same majority as Mr. Clay's, viz. 115 to 45.

The resolution of the senate, directing medals to be struck, and voting the thanks of that house to major-general Wm. H. Harrison, and governor Shelby, for their services in the late war, was read three times and passed.

RISING OF CONGRESS.

The senate yesterday returned the joint resolution, sent from the representatives fixing the adjournment of congress for the 13th, amended by that house to the 20th, which was agreed to without a division—so that the adjournment will positively take place on the 20th of April.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT NORFOLK.

Steam-boat Hotel Reading & News Room, Norfolk, March 28—noon.

SIR—I am sorry to inform you of the loss of a brig (supposed the Alfred, capt. Rolf,) from Portland, bound to Alexandria—which was wrecked on Hog Island, on Tuesday, 17th inst—vessel, cargo (of rum, molasses and lumber,) and two of the seamen lost. Two of the survivors arrived here yesterday afternoon, in the schooner Sally, capt. Elson, from Cherrystone, who gave the information. I have not, however, been fortunate enough to meet with them, notwithstanding I have made every exertion to do so. They stated to capt. E. that after the vessel went to pieces, they remained four days on the wreck before they reached the shore; during which time they suffered very severely from cold and hunger—and even on their arriving here, their feet were so swollen from the effects of the frost, as to prevent them moving about much. Not an article was saved from the wreck, except what the survivors had on.

Respectfully yours,
W. G. LYFORD.

The general opinion is that our ports will open on the 14th proximo for grain and flour.

Enclosed you have a price current to this date, which may be depended upon. From the immense number of arrivals our market is in a perfect calm, and scarcely a purchaser for any article whatever, and exports very high and scarce. Fruits are hardly to be obtained at any price, either at Malaga or here. By the post of yesterday we learn "that Cadiz is to be made a port of depot, similar to Marseilles." As yet we have not heard the particulars.

Brig William and ship Heroine have arrived at Leghorn.

The following arrivals and departures furnished by the above correspondent, are not mentioned in captain Andrews' list:

DISTRESSING SHIPWRECK.

The brig Cloulda, Wm. Brotherton, master, sailed from N. Orleans the 24th of Feb. bound to Philadelphia, with a cargo of sugar, tobacco, cotton, &c. On the 1st March, left the Balize with a light wind from the southward and westward which continued increasing till the 4th, when they made the Dolphin Head, island of Cuba. On the 5th the wind hauled round to the northward and eastward, blowing a gale; kept beating for 7 days, and on the 12th found themselves off Cape Antonio. The wind having moderated on the 13th, made the More, bearing south, distant about 20 miles.—Spoke a Buenos Ayrean armed brig, with a schooner in company; the brig having, to appearance, suffered very much in the previous gale, and lost her stern boat.—On the 14th made Cape Florida, the wind continually blowing from the northward and eastward. On the 15th cleared Maranilla, with a pleasant breeze from E. S. E.; the Clotilda having labored so much during those several gales as to cause her to spring aleak, and to keep her free it was found necessary to pump every half hour. On the 16th spoke the brig Betsey, of Portland, from Havana bound to Boston, but in consequence of having suffered much by shifting her cargo of molasses, was then bearing away for Charleston. On the 18th, experienced a most violent gale from N. which made it necessary to lay too for 18 hours, the leak increasing so as to require one pump to be kept constantly going.

On the 21st, Cape Hatteras bearing N. N. W. distant 60 miles, experienced another violent gale from S. S. E. which increased the leak so as to require both pumps to be kept constantly going, the passengers taking a spell with the crew every 20 minutes. Expecting the vessel would sink, proceeded to clear the boats, and discovered a leak in the forward wooden ends; also that a butt had sprung on the larboard side near the gangway and the plank-shear was shutting out about five inches. A heavy sea running all the time from N. E. and being nearly a calm, caused the vessel to labor much, and in a tempting (though in vain) to stop the leak forward, by forcing in blankets, found that the stem was loose and that the breast-hooks were working out. A breeze springing up at this time from S. E. and judging the vessel incapable of reaching her port of destination, thought it advisable to bear away for the first port.

On the 23d at noon the wind hauled suddenly round to N. N. W and the water gaining on the pumps, steered for the Chesapeake, and shortly discovered that Cape Henry bore W. by S. distant about 70 miles. At 6 A. M. on the 24th blowing a fresh gale from N. N. E. made South's Island. The sugar in the lower hold all this time washing out of the casks, while that between decks remained full, the vessel became quite top heavy.

Spoke on the Middle Ground, the pilot boats Berry and Ploughboy, both belonging to Baltimore, and desired them to send a pilot on board to conduct the brig to Norfolk, but was answered they had none. The pilot boats passed the brig so suddenly that capt. B had not time to inform them of his situation, but presumes they must have known something of his distresses, from seeing both pumps going. Capt. B then hoisted both his colors at the fore-top-gallant masthead, union down, as a signal of distress, and at 10 A. M. saw Cape Henry light, bearing W. S. W. distant 10 miles. The wind hauling to N. by W. endeavored to weather the Cape and run into Lynnhaven Bay, but a strong ebb tide drifting the brig fast out and the wind blowing violently, they judged it best to run her ashore, sensible that she could only be kept afloat a few hours longer.—This was done at half past 1 o'clock, P. M. about 5 miles S. of Cape Henry.—The mate with 11 others of the crew and passengers immediately took to the long boat and endeavored to reach the shore, but the boat instantly filled and sunk, and every one on board perished.

Capt. B and 7 others of the passengers and crew remained on board until the vessel went to pieces and then drifted ashore on the deck.

The names of the persons lost were John Labaune, of France, Wm. Anderson, of Limestone, (Ken.) and Joseph C. Rutherford, of Alexandria, cabin passengers; and Ichabod Ruel, of New-York, and Doctor ——, (name not recollected) of Kentucky, steerage ditto; Robt. Johnson, mate, of Philadelphia, Thos. Britt, James Usher, of Baltimore, Wm. Smith, of Newburyport, Samuel Richardson, steward, and John Franklin, cook, the two latter blacks, both of Philadelphia.

The survivors on reaching the shore made for the light house on the Cape, where they were very kindly received and assisted by Mr. Burrows' family, and reached this place yesterday afternoon, having lost nearly every thing they had. Their names are, Wm. Brotherton, captain; Mr. Foucher and Dr. H. Smith, cabin passengers; Messrs. Insman, Somers and Welch, steerage passengers; and Henry P. Osborne, and Thomas Brotherton, seamen.

From the Salem Register.

The great patriot, Josiah Quincy, addressing his countrymen, in 1774, observes, "If any should now say—we are a commercial people—commercial plans can only save us; if any think that the ideas of the merchant are at this day to give springs to our nerves and vigor to our actions; if any say that empire in this age of the world is only founded in commerce—let him show me the people emancipated from oppression by commercial principles and measures—let him point me the land where trade and slavery flourish together. Till then I must hold a different creed, and believe that though commercial plans may do much, they never can do ALL. With regard then to how much the merchant, the artificer, the citizen and the husbandman may do, let us no longer differ. Let every one apply his strength and his abilities. Americans have one COMMON INTEREST to unite them. That interest must cement them. Natural allies, they have published to the world professions of reciprocal esteem and confidence, aid and assistance. They have pledged their faith of mutual friendship and alliance.—Not only common danger, bondage and disgrace, but national truth and honor conspire to make them resolve to STAND OR FALL TOGETHER." He proceeds—"The faculty of intelligence may be considered as the first gift of God. Its due exercise is the happiness and honor of man. Its abuse his calamity and disgrace. The most trifling duty is not properly discharged without the exertion of this noble faculty. Yet, how often does it lie dormant, while the highest concernments are in issue. Believe me, the labor of examining for ourselves, or great imposition, must be submitted to. There is no other alternative; and unless we weigh and consider what we examine, little benefit will result from research." Such was the good advice of an able patriot, who inspired the best hopes of the public liberty, and whose memory will live in distant posterity. We act for ourselves. Our own "judgment, resolution and spirit" must make us free.

From an English paper.

Napoleon Peint par lui-meme.

The long expected work will soon appear we understand. The MS was transmitted from Leghorn, with assurances that its perfect authenticity might be depended upon. The editor, in his preface, says,

"A singular circumstance placed these papers in my possession. In June, 1814, an American, who was travelling for his pleasure, came to visit me at Leghorn. His extreme curiosity to become acquainted with Bonaparte inspired him with an earnest wish to go to the island of Elba, and I procured him the means of doing so. He was a man of considerable knowledge and very engaging manners, and seems to have pleased Napoleon much. He had several interviews with him, and was allowed to peruse his manuscript memoirs, from which he privately took extracts of the leading parts. His conversations with Bonaparte were of a very singular nature. These he also noted down every day as they occurred. On his return to Leghorn he communicated to me his notes: I found them so extremely interesting, that I entreated the permission to take a copy of them, with the view of their being published. After much hesitation he at length consented to my request. The singular manner in which the notes were taken may throw a shade of doubt whether the facts cited happened exactly as they are related, or whether there was not some connivance between Bonaparte and the author. Be this as it may, I consider the manuscript as a curious historical document, and one of the most authentic relating to Bonaparte."

Washington-City, Feb. 7.

Mr. Democritus,

As the New-York wits are not singular in charging you Philadelphians with being subject to an inveterate propensity to deal in puns, but we have recently seen several papers published to the south of this place, who roundly repeat the accusation made by the New-Yorkers, we could not think of a more appropriate portion of the union than your city, from which to usher forth the following string of punning thoughts.

In our house of lords, or senate, now in session, we have a king friendly to equal rights, and not at all disposed to wear the trappings of royalty. You may rely upon seeing pretty keen shaving, whenever the barbour brandishes his implement; and altho' the senators are not interested in a soap manufactory, yet they have an ashman, who can kick a dust up in a trice. The sons of St. David, too, have their emblem, a leek; and should you look into the senate chamber on the morrow, you will find a hunter, who has quit the sports of the field, busily engaged in legislation with a smith and a taylor, neither of whom ever shod a horse or seated a pair of small clothes. As you will no doubt admit that such scenes are noble, I shall pun no farther on the residue of the senatorial troup.

The house of representatives must indeed have many thisty souls among their number, when they preface their list with a butler, and though he appears to be pretty hale, and can talk like a parrott, yet we think he would be very likely to lose his gage before he could prevail on the two masons to assist in rebuilding Holmes's mills.—Nor would we feel greatly surprised if Sampson had to engage in a strong conflict, before he could overcome the only whiteman in the house. Altho' they have a drake in the house, we do not hear of much quacking, nor has the presence of even a savage led to any quarrels that we have heard of.—We thought that spencers had gone out of fashion several years since, but the taylor made one with great speed for the cook, which he swore suited his business better than it did for the undress of a sergeant.

It is a very convenient arrangement for our members of congress, that they can have porter whenever they please; but as their miller most commonly grinds rice, they get no crackers to their beverage. We recommend it to the members to take special care not to come in contact with the tar they have, or it will be likely to adhere to their clothing a little. If they only had wood, they might have a nice barbicue, as they are provided with a fine hogg and a most expert sawyer. But lest the house should think proper to repeat the farce of Col. John Anderson, and marr our sport by sending their sergeant-at-arms in quest of us, we will cut this communication short, and settle our offences by asking pardon of the pope. Timothy Twist-it & Co.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE's MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums,

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of spirits	Melancholy
Loss of appetite	Gout in the stomach
Impurity of b'ood	Pains in the limbs
Hysteric'l affection	Relaxations, etc.
Inward weaknesses and debility

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.
